Senior Reception

JUNE 3, 1955

The Junior Marshal, Josephine Ciampa, and her attendants lead us into the hall.

Bob McLay gives the Class History.

What's so amusing? Mr. Kimball must know the answer.

Class Day

TUESDAY, JUNE SEVENTH

2:00 P.M.

Paul, our president, welcomes us to the Class Day Exercises.

Here we come.

Edward Flaherty, president of 1956, accepts the gift from Paul Lennon, president of 1955.

Irma delivers the Class Poem, an original composition.

Our award winners: M. Linscott (Billauer Award), J. Johnson (Good Citizenship Award of the D.A.R.), I. Pearson (Bausch and Lomb Medal), H. Regan (James D. Haggerty Memorial Award), L. Foley (Reader's Digest Certificate, D.A.R. Prize, Grange Award), Principal H. D. Blake, R. McLay (Rensselaer Medal, Grange Award), P. Lennon (Billauer Award), R. Butler (James D. Haggerty Memorial Award).

Our amusing Class Prophecy is read by Louise and Jake.

Attention focused on the speakers.

Paul presents Mr. Blake with a token of our appreciation.

Why the big smile, John?

Who would believe the Seniors could be this serious?

Tommy leads us in our Class Song.

Frank autographs Tom's Yearbook.

We await the Marshal's cue for the beginning of the Recessional.

Senior Banquet

TUESDAY, JUNE SEVENTH

7:00 P.M.

As editor-in-chief of The Innitou, Toastmistress Marah Linscott, welcomes the senior class and their guests to the annual banquet sponsored by the Yearbook Staff.

Frank surely enjoys making the presentation of the first copy of the 1955 Innitou to Miss Bascom, our honored guest, to whom the book was dedicated.

Jimmy presents Bobby with an award for Business Manager of The Innitou—a tough job for anyone trying to raise $3000.

Frank receives an award for his diligent photography work.

Jimmy presents an award to Marah for the splendid work she accomplished in editing The Innitou.

Judy, what's the rush?

The teachers examine their copies closely.

The first trial! Are these expressions of approval or disapproval?

Did someone make an error in counting?

Graduation

WEDNESDAY, JUNE EIGHTH

8:00 P.M.

Seated: J. Madden (Kiwanis Scholarship), C. Langone (Woburn Council P.T.A. Scholarship), J. Greene (Warren Academy Scholarship), E. Quilitzsch (Upsala College Scholarship). Standing: A. Rotondo (Warren Academy Scholarship), J. Foley (Warren Academy Scholarship, Kiwanis Scholarship), T. McKee (Woburn Teachers Association Scholarship), Principal H. D. Blake.

Seated: I. Pearson (Warren Academy Scholarship, Radcliffe Scholarship), C. Gourlis (Scholarship of Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society), L. Foley (Beggs & Cobb Scholarship, Immaculate Conception Ladies' Sodality Scholarship, Warren Academy Scholarship), Principal H. D. Blake. Standing: N. Triantafilou (Warren Academy Scholarship), R. Butler (Tidd Scholarship), K. Flynn (Joseph H. Holloran, Jr. Memorial Scholarship of Woburn Lodge of Elks, Warren Academy Scholarship), C. Gourlis (Northeastern University Scholarship, Warren Academy Scholarship). J. Johnson, awarded the Tidd Scholarship, was not present to receive it.

You look surprised, Ronnie!

Nancy gladly accepts her diploma from Mayor Murray.

Mayor Murray addresses the graduates.

Superintendent Hassett expresses best wishes to the class.

Chairman of the School Committee, John Riley, gives us a few words of advice.

Guest speaker, Mr. George Thompson, delivers his speech.

Loretta, as Valedictorian, and Irma, as Salutatorian, certainly challenged our other graduation speakers when it came to holding the attention of the guests. And of course, what could be a finer way to complete our story than by the singing of "Parting", our Class Song?

Foreword . . .

For centuries novels have played a significant part in the cultural development of our nation. Through them authors have set forth stirring descriptions of our magnificent land and of its deep spiritual truths. It is through this medium of literature that we learn much concerning the forces which have influenced our lives.

With this in mind, the 1955 Innitou Staff has attempted to present the adventures and achievements of its class in the form of the novel whose plot will be forever stamped on the mind of each student.

Athena was received as a first prize in a Herald contest held some time before 1907. It was placed temporarily in the library until moved to its present position in the auditorium.

Caesar Augustus was presented to the school by Mr. & Mrs. James Skinner in memory of their son, James Lambton Skinner of the Class of 1890.

Dedication

ETHEL M. BASCOM

"The counselors who never change, the friends who never go."

Reflection is the best medium of thought. There will be many in the city of Woburn and in other communities who will pause to reflect this year on their high school days. Mirrored in these thoughts will be memories of classmates and teachers who have moulded their associations of early life and character. Outstanding among these will be a teacher of long service and highest repute; one whose years were untiringly devoted to the highest ideals and ethics of the profession which she has followed so devotedly. Although Miss Bascom will leave Woburn High School this June, the influence which she has exerted on the students will be felt for years to come.

We all wish her many years of retirement and the best that the future can hold.

We, therefore, deem it an honored privilege to dedicate our book to Miss Ethel M. Bascom.

Message to The Class of 1955

I wish to congratulate each member of the Class of 1955. Your four short years of high school training are over, and you are now ready to find a place in employment or to continue your education at some new place of higher learning.

The Class of 1955 has made a fine record at Woburn High School, and we in charge of the educational program feel quite certain that each graduate has been adequately prepared to meet the many new and interesting experiences which he or she will find in our community and social life.

Your parents are to be congratulated also for realizing the value of a high school education and for having you complete your high school studies. In some cases your parents had to make many financial sacrifices to make this possible.

I sincerely hope that you will remember to return occasionally to the school to talk with your teachers, principal and others who will always be interested in your welfare.

J. FRANK HASSETT
Superintendent of Schools

To the Class of 1955:

The world of 1955 is a time of crisis at home and abroad. It is an era fraught with uncertainty among leaders in government and with despair by a large segment of our population. It is not a time calculated to calm the troubled mind.

Yet in the uncertainty and despair of our times lies the challenge to our youth in the class of 1955, Woburn High School. None of us with faith in our country and civilization, none of us who has learned the lessons of history can avoid this challenge. Was it not often in perilous days that the challenge of the days called forth many of civilization's greatest contributions? We need only recall that during England's most devastating civil war that Milton wrote his greatest poetry; that while Napoleon's armies subjugated Europe, Beethoven wrote his music; that during our own Civil War, Lincoln postulated forever the dignity of all men, irrespective of creed or race or color.

It is our task on the eve of graduation in June, 1955, to renew ourselves with the faith that in the refusal to accept defeat in the face of despair and uncertainty that our American democracy will reach its highest hour.

Let us look, then, on the Yearbook of the Class of 1955, as a permanent pictorial memorial to these days, and friends, and opportunities, which prepared us to open without fear and timidity the door to America's golden future—a door which can be opened only from within.

Our setting . . .

Mr. Connolly makes certain that our future secretaries will not be found wanting in English fundamentals for letter writing.

A very interesting period in the day for our future printers, Frank and Bobby, as they set type under Mr. Walsh's skillful training.

"Sorry, Gerry, not good enough for this department. There is no substitute for accuracy," says Miss Bascom.

Woburn builds! Why not give us a chance? Here, under Mr. Reddy's expert guidance, we have learned the skills of wood-working.

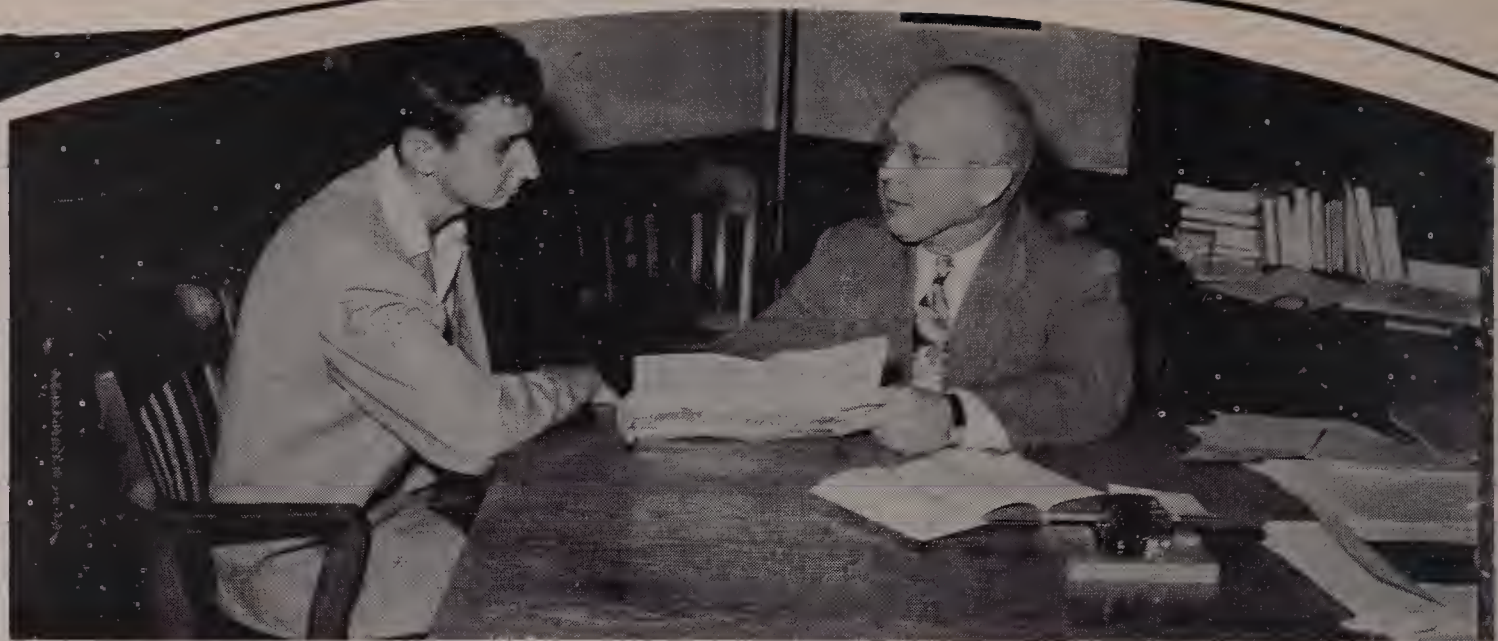

Our future chemists eagerly await the new problem as they prepare to enter the field of science.

Although the world is small, its problems are endless. Mr. O'Donnell prepares our future citizens for intelligent interpretation and solution of these problems.

The plot begins . .

Our guidance Director, Mr. Ring, gives Frank a bit of good advice.

Mr. James makes electronics an interesting study.

Added interest is given to the next day's game by late afternoon practice.

Student Council

The Student Council, one of the most active organizations in the school, is made up of a representative from each home room and from each activity. The main purpose of this group is to bring about improvements and to give the students an opportunity to have a voice in the functioning of the school. Each student in the school is asked to pay ten cents to help the council carry on its projects.

Under its conscientious advisers, Mr. James O'Donnell and Mrs. Lawrence Conroy, the council held its annual dance in November and has sponsored all the assemblies during the school year.

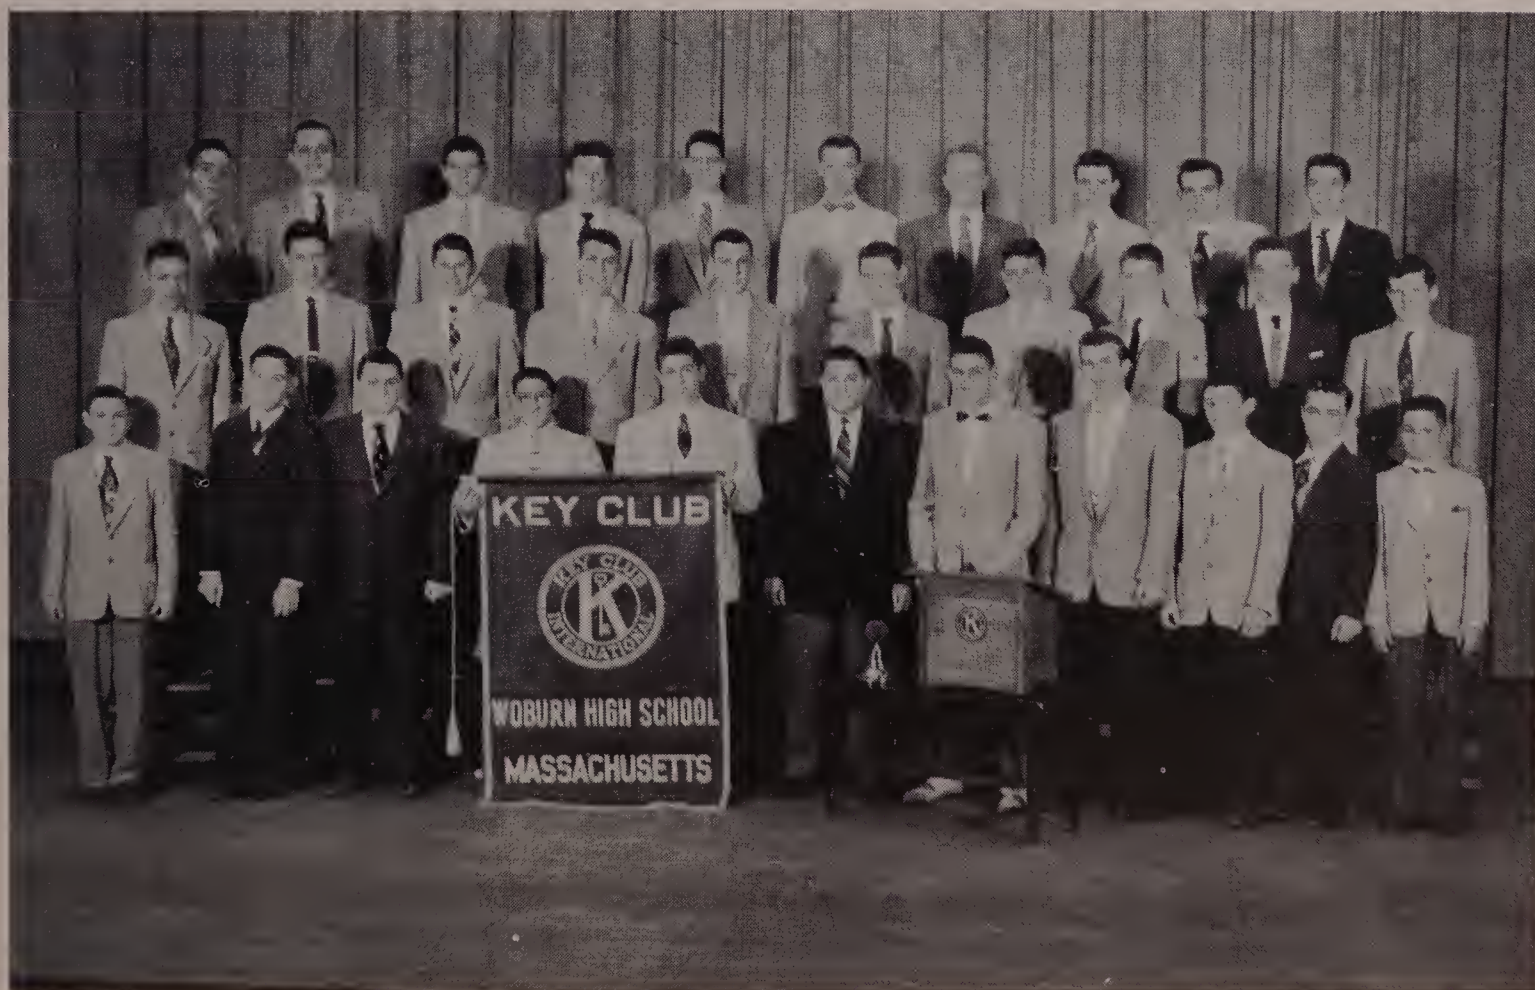

The Key Club is composed of boys selected from the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades with the approval of the principal. They meet under the sponsorship of the local Kiwanis Club with Mr. Edward Marashio acting as the school adviser.

This club aims for the development of leadership among youth and for the fostering of justice, liberty and democracy. True to its motto, "We Build", the club is always ready to assist in any program which the school considers worthy.

Tanner News

The Tanner News, official organ of the student body of Woburn High School has now completed its fifth year of publication. During these five years it has brought multiple honors to the high school. Among these were the following: The Boston Globe's Annual Competition, the New England Scholastic Press Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The Staff, headed by the four faculty advisers, with Helen Regan as editor-in-chief, comprises approximately ten per cent of the student body. The newspaper is published four times a year and contains news pertaining to the school and short stories written by the students.

Band

The Woburn High School Band directed by Mr. Kimball is composed of sixty members. During the football season it aroused school spirit by performing at rallies and at games. It made an excellent showing at the Veteran's Day Parade and at the opening of the Christmas lights display in the business section and again at the combined concert with Lexington which was held in the auditorium on March 8. It added greatly to our assemblies during the course of the year and was always ready to lend assistance to any group calling upon it.

Orchestra

One of the mainstays of the school is to be found in the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Kimball. Their excellent performances contribute much to the enjoyment of school assemblies and other programs. In addition to these assignments, they give willingly of their time to outside performances. One of the highlights of this year was the opening of the "On to Washington Drive" at the Strand Theatre.

The purpose of the school orchestra is to give musical-minded students a chance to further their knowledge of music while at the same time gaining enjoyment from playing the various instruments.

The Glee Club, under the capable direction of Mr. Edson Kimball, worked enthusiastically during the year. One of the features of graduation each year is the performance by the Senior Girls' Glee Club.

Membership in this group is open to all senior girls who have been enrolled in the chorus or music classes throughout the entire three years.

The Drum Majorettes were a source of pleasure to those who attended Woburn's football games during the past season. On the football field they displayed new struts and twists which helped to entertain the spectators between the periods in the games. Frequently they displayed their talents while accompanying the band during its many marching activities. The captain, Charlotte Lavacchia, was responsible for the many wonderful performances of the group.

Cheerleaders

The main purpose of the cheerleaders is to add color and "pep" to the games. Each year these girls are chosen from the student body by teachers and coaches of other schools. Eleven juniors and seniors assisted by their mascot, Terry Varey, and their adviser, Miss Trowbridge, urged the teams on to victory.

The compliments of the spectators at the games were well-deserved. Only hours of drill and practice could have brought forth such outstanding performances as they have given. This fine looking group of girls showed a great deal of enthusiasm and school spirit.

Traffic Squad

One of the most important groups in in the school is the Traffic Squad. This organization is composed entirely of senior boys and is under the direction of Mr. William Roche. It is their duty to see that the corridors are kept clear during the filing periods and that order is maintained during fire drills. The members of this squad have also served as ushers at various school functions during the school year.

The main purpose of the Junior Red Cross is to bring happiness to others. One of its biggest projects this year was the dressing of dolls for children in hospitals. Much of the clothing for these dolls was made by hand by the girls in the group. Among other undertakings by this group was the making of tray favors for Easter, holiday boxes for May, and birthday boxes for June. These were sent to nearby Veterans' Hospitals.

Because of its valuable benefits, the Driver Education Course, directed by Mr. William Roche, is one of the most popular activities in the school. The girls and boys enrolled in this course meet twice a week for classroom instruction. Actual driving experience is gained during after school hours when the members use the school-owned car. After twenty weeks of training, a student may try out for a license. Those who are successful also receive a certificate entitling them to an insurance deduction.

Yearbook

The Yearbook Staff has worked diligently during the year to produce the class annual, The Innitou. The Staff is composed entirely of seniors who possess qualities of leadership, responsibility, co-operation, and determination. Regularly scheduled meetings are held on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month when the different departments meet as a whole to formulate plans and exchange ideas. Most of the actual editing of the book must be done after school hours.

Under the capable direction of Miss Margaret Burke, assisted by Miss Catherine Burke and Miss Doris Lynch, the Staff brings to a close its activities for the year by sponsoring the Senior Class Banquet financed by funds from this activity.

National Honor Society

Scholarship, service, leadership, character—these four qualities determine membership in the Woburn chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools. Contrary to popular belief, scholarship alone does not make a student eligible for membership, although each member must maintain a "B" average. Most of the students in this society hold high offices in other school activities. Membership in the society is one of the highest honors which a student can achieve in high school—an honor which is carried on beyond high school, for graduate membership is retained after graduation.

To stimulate interest in the society, members are encouraged to wear emblems of this national organization and printed membership cards are given to each member.

This society is under the supervision and guidance of Mr. Shipley Ricker.

During the fall one of the most active groups in the school was the Cross Country Team. The boys had a great deal of stamina and underwent rigorous training under Coach John McGovern and their enthusiastic Captain John Dineen. The season ran from the opening of the school year through the first of November. In addition to competing with surrounding schools, the team ran in the Pilgrim Division Meet, the Middlesex Valley League Meet, and the State Meet. This team made a fine showing at all of these events.

Although the Field Hockey Team was not victorious this year, they displayed qualities of good character and sportsmanship inspired by their excellent coach, Miss Trowbridge. They put every effort into the games and played their best. On many unpleasant days they could be found out on the field, hoping to perfect their game.

Track

One of the prominent signs of spring is the appearance of the track team at practice. Every afternoon the candidates practice on the track and surrounding areas. Main interest is in the dashes, field events, and distance runs. Under the coaching of Mr. McGovern, the team has been outstanding, and during the 1954 season brought the championship to Woburn High. This year's team holds promise of retaining this great honor.

Girls' Basketball

The Girls' Basketball Team practices on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. The first and second teams are made up of all classes in the school. Nine games were played and our girls gave the opponents a good battle each time.

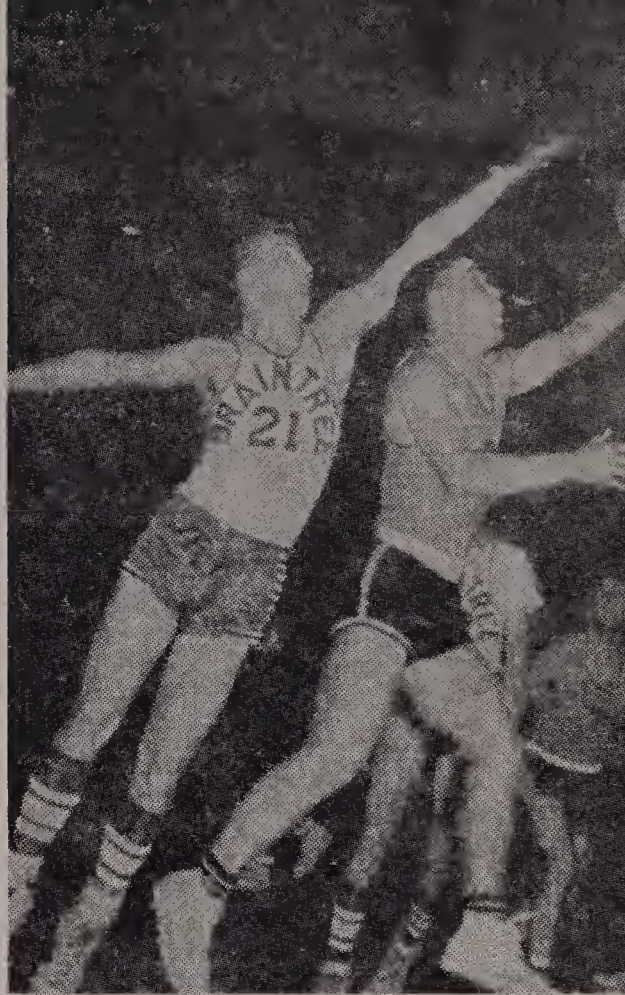

Miss Higgins deserves much credit for coaching the girls in playing the best possible game regardless of the score.

This year the basketball team was composed mainly of veterans. Although it lacks height, it displays a great deal of spirit and team work. Paul Lennon, in his second year as captain, was a most able leader who seemed to inject courage and fight into his team mates. Much recognition is due to Mr. Flaherty, who led the team to the Northeastern Conference Championship in 1954. This year's team had a large following of loyal fans.

Baseball is a popular sport at Woburn High School, and each year an exceptionally fine team is produced. Last year the team won the Northeastern Conference Championship and competed in the sectional playoff. They played Somerville at Braves Field. With many of the players returning this year, there is a good chance that we shall once again have a winning team. Credit is due to the team's able coach, Mr. McDonough, who has been so successful in his coaching assignment.

The Football Team had an outstanding season. Although the captain, Nick Triantafilou, was unable to play because of a neck injury, he worked with our excellent coaches, Mr. Dorrington, Mr. Corleto, Mr. White, and Mr. Murray, building up and sparking the team to eight wins and one tie. These victories brought us the Northeastern Conference Championship and the championship of Class C. Because of the team's sportsmanship and victory, the people of Woburn sponsored a drive to send the boys to Washington, D. C.

Hockey

The 1954-55 Hockey Squad is the first to represent Woburn High School in about twenty years. It is very well equipped and has improved with each game. We realize how hard the boys worked to produce a fine team because they sacrificed their sleep to practice from 5:00 to 6:00 A. M. on Saturdays at the Lynn Arena. Mr. Robert Connolly was their competent coach and he was aided by James Kilbride as captain.

Castiglione Puts Thump in Woburn High Attack

But It's No One-Man Team; Every Back Can Run, Pass

By BUD COLLINS

An old-fashioned triple-threat back, a seasoned backfield and a steady line may be leading Woburn High to its best season since pre-war days. That's the opinion of Coach Paul Dorrington, who gives it with his fingers crossed as he thinks ahead to his team's next four opponents—arch-rival Stoneham, Marblehead, Danvers and undefeated Winchester.

He has scored 68 of our points this year," declared Coach Dorrington, who has been a fullback in the single back T, then drops back to spot in the short kick. The opposition can't what he's going to do. This 5-7, 180-pounder school edition of B. U.'s.

Don't get the idea we're in team," continued Paul. player in the backfield and pass. Just last Saturday against Amesbury, block-Tony Rotondo, the only back to throw two passes to our excellent catching end, Tony as Roger Tancreti and phy occupy the halfback position when we need speed while another junior, Leo Carey, and senior Paul Marshall step in to give us power. Carey and Marshall make up our usual defensive backfield along with Rotondo and Castiglione.

of the Winchester line on the line, scored his team's first touchdowns to run his season point total to 127 points, the highest in the state. In all, junior powerhouse carried times for a net gain of yards and a 5.7 yard average.

Running mate Tancreti at his knife-like thrusts for the tackle and the ends as his touchdown clinched the game and Woburn's first state title. The lanky 155-pounder toted the ball 20 times for 110 yards and a 5.5 yard average.

The Woburn victory gave the Orange and Black a record of eight triumphs and a tie with Reading, equaling ever put together way back in 1911. Although Woburn flashes of its potential in Joe Belino and the most impressive game was to control the most of the visit opportunities.

TORNADO FINISHES AS CO-CHAMPION Maiden rolled up its second highest total in this annual classic in the past 20 years, exceeded only by the Golden Tornado's 33-14 victory over the Mustangs.

Woburn came up with a break in the second half of the game, as he also contributed 17, 25 and three yards. Only Paul Marshall's line defensive work prevented Murphy from going all the way on the long-gainers as the half ended with the score tied, 6-6.

If the N. B. A. means it, outside to win their third straight N. F. C.

Class Song

Thomas McKee

To Tune of "Melody of Love"

Now that we are leaving Woburn High,
There's no time for grieving—just good-bye.
Teachers, friends and classmates, we'll miss you;
And our hearts will e'er be true.
All too soon we'll go our diverse ways,
As we sing to thee a song of praise.
Courage, knowledge, faith will never die.
Hail to thee, dear Woburn High.

Class Poem

PERFECTION

by Irma Lorraine Pearson

Perfection, sages say, is God's alone,
And like the well of life is but a dream,
A golden pendant shining in the minds of men,
A spur for those who strive for thoughts supreme.

A line of lovely music or poetic phrase
Transports a soul to wondrous realms profound.
For one supernal second, timeless, full,
The summit sought so long at last is found.

Perhaps perfection thus can be attained,
For who defines this goal beyond our reach?
An ecstasy divine, a secret pure,
The hope of youth, the lesson God must teach.

Acknowledgments

The publishing of our annual, The Innitou, is a big financial undertaking. Without the generous assistance of our sponsors and our advertisers, we could not possibly have a yearbook. The staff wishes to thank all of them for their contributions and request our readers to patronize these people whenever possible.

In addition to financial backing, success depends upon good leadership. The Class of '55 has had that quality in the guidance of our advisers. Miss Margaret Burke, Miss Catherine Burke, and Miss Doris Lynch have been responsible for the success of our publication. We appreciate the many hours they have given to make our book possible.
